

VISUAL SPECTRUM OF THE LIGHT

The wave length of the visible light is between 770nm and 400nm and is called visual spectrum.

The visual spectrum itself is composed by various electromagnetic waves, which produce different colour perceptions in our eyes.

